Winter Weather Advisory

In effect until 9 AM Wednesday morning

Weather Forecast Office
Lubbock, TX

Issued Feb 23, 2022 7:59 AM CST

A Winter Weather Advisory is in effect for portions of the Rolling Plains and southeastern Texas Panhandle until 9 AM Wednesday morning. Sleet is expected in this area along with a few rumbles of thunder. Up to one inch of sleet accumulation will be possible. Travel may become hazardous this morning.

Winter Storm Warning & Winter Weather Advisory

Through Thursday

Weather Forecast Office
Fort Worth, TX

Issued Feb 23, 2022 4:40 AM CST

A Winter Storm Warning is in effect through Thursday from the Dallas/Fort Worth Metroplex northward to the Red River. Sleet and ice accumulation will result in hazardous driving conditions. A Winter Weather Advisory is in effect for much of the remainder of North and Central Texas. Road conditions will steadily deteriorate tonight into Thursday.

Hazardous Weather

Winter Weather Advisory

Valid time from Wednesday 6:00 am through 6:00 pm on Thursday

Weather Forecast Office
Shreveport, LA
Issued Feb 23, 2022 4:56 AM CST

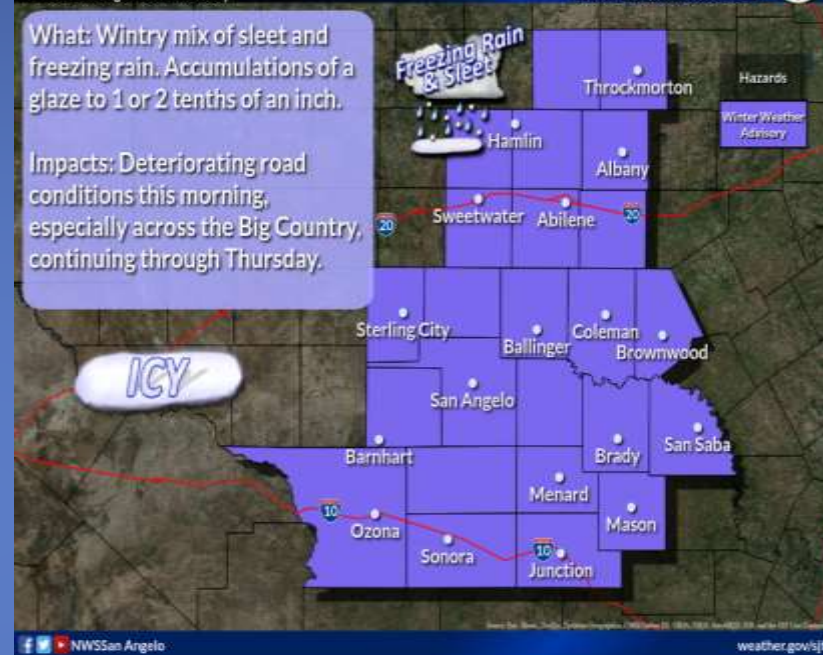

A Winter Weather Advisory is in effect for southeast Oklahoma, portions of northeast Texas and southwest Arkansas from 6am today until 6pm on Thursday. A mix of freezing rain and sleet is expected today, tonight and into tomorrow. Ice accumulations up to a quarter of an inch are possible in northern McCurtain County and lesser amounts expected farther south. Elevated roads and bridges will present a significant travel hazard for our counties shaded in purple through tomorrow afternoon.

Winter Weather Advisory Continues

In Effect Through Noon Thursday

Weather Forecast Office
San Angelo, TX
Issued Feb 23, 2022 6:14 AM CST

Hazardous Weather

Continued Cold Today

Areas of Freezing Rain and Sleet to Continue

Weather Forecast Office
San Angelo, TX
Issued Feb 23, 2022 4:10 AM CST

Areas of freezing rain and sleet will continue through mid morning across much of West Central Texas. "Highs" will remain below freezing for areas north of I-10.

There may be a lull in the wintry mix this afternoon, before more widespread activity develops again later tonight.

Falling Temperatures Through the Day

Highs Likely to Occur Early in the Day - Gusty North Winds Continuing

Weather Forecast Office
Austin/San Antonio, TX
Issued Feb 23, 2022 2:49 AM CST

NWSSanAntonio

weather.gov/ewx

Temperatures will slowly drop through the day so highs will likely occur early on in the day. With temperatures dropping to near or just below freezing across parts of the Hill Country by this afternoon a rain/freezing rain mix will be possible for the 2nd half of the day across the Edwards Plateau and Hill Country. All other areas will see a cold rain through the day. Gusty north winds will continue. No accumulation on roadways and sidewalks are expected due to the warm ground temperatures.

Hazardous Weather

Rain/Freezing Rain Mix Possible

Forecast Confidence Low to Moderate

Weather Forecast Office
Austin/San Antonio, TX
Issued Feb 23, 2022 3:06 AM CST

A Wintry Mix will be possible Wednesday Afternoon through Thursday Morning, and again late Thursday Evening through Friday morning across the Hill Country, Edwards Plateau, and northern parts of the I-35 corridor. This does include Austin, but not San Antonio at this time. Thursday afternoon temperatures will rise to above freezing so only a cold rain is expected. No significant impacts are expected as precipitation amounts will be light, and ground temperatures remain warm due to the highs in the 80s to start the week. Some impacts are possible on elevated roadways and bridges.

Winter Weather Advisory

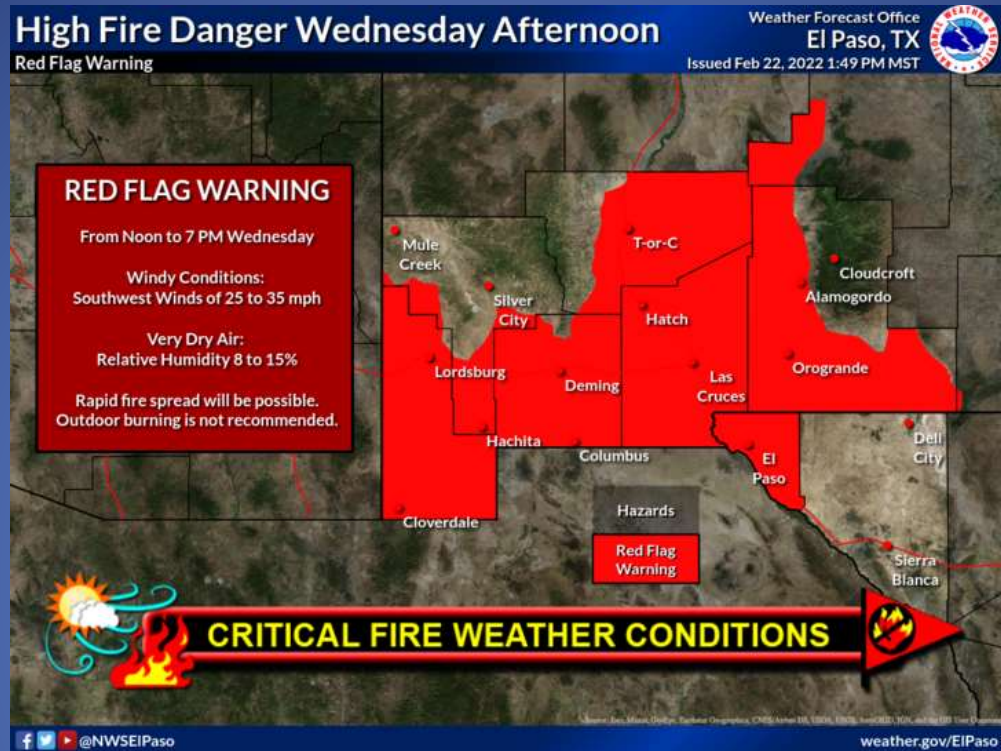

Until 600 PM CST This Evening

Weather Forecast Office
Midland/Odessa, TX
Issued February 23, 2022 3:33 AM CT

Above-normal temperatures expected today for much of the area. Much cooler temperatures are expected behind the cold front across the northeast Permian Basin.

Hazardous Weather

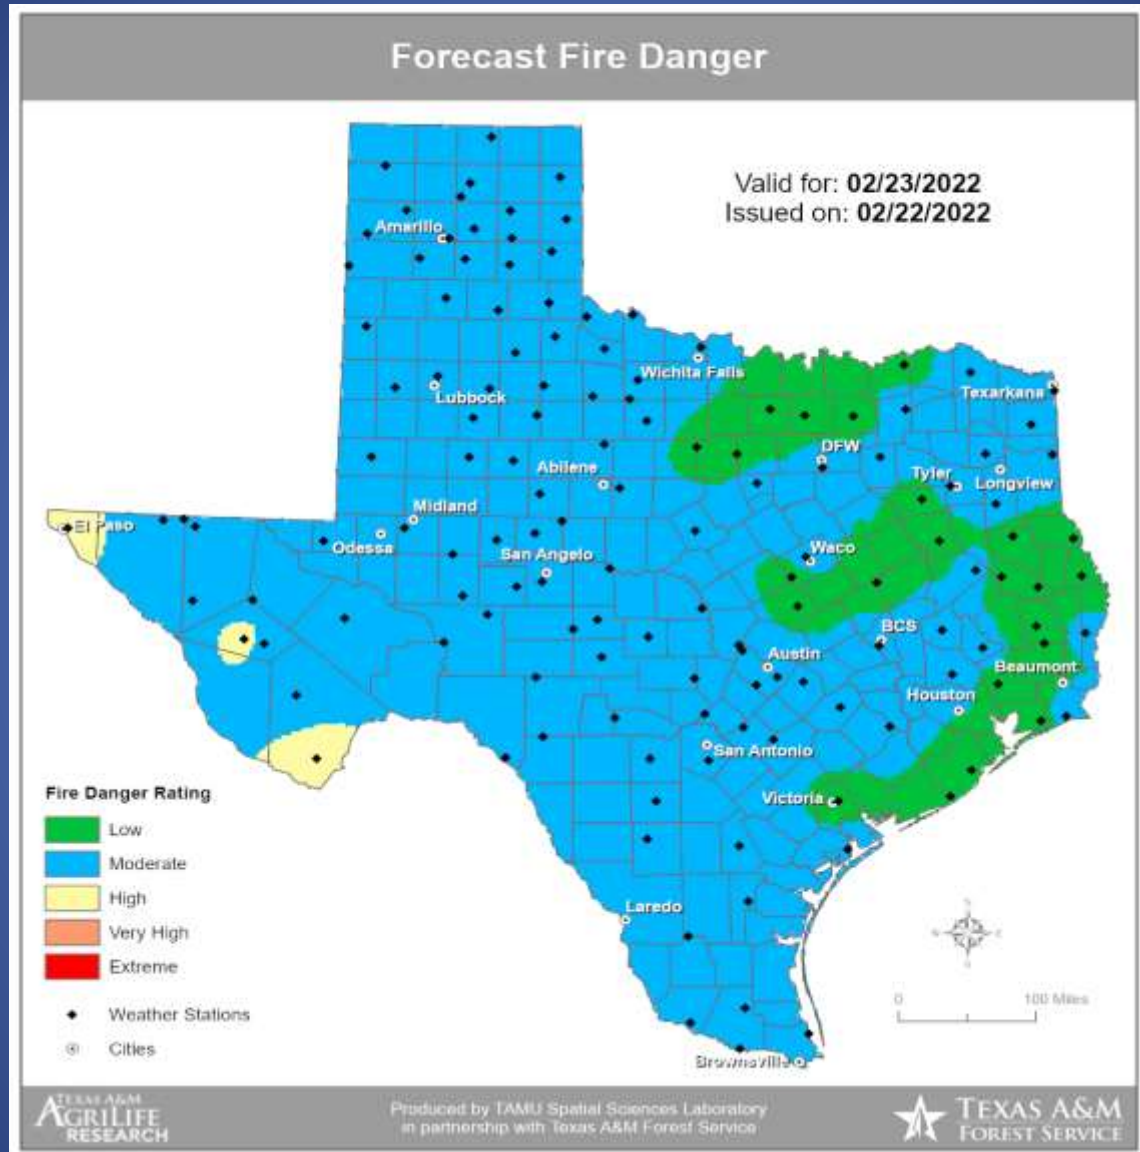

Warm and dry conditions will combine with higher winds to create high fire danger for Wednesday. Outdoor burning is not recommended.
